A Home Designed for Living Well

Some homes give you a reason to slow down.

Quietly positioned in a Calala cul-de-sac, 10 McDonald Crescent combines stylish updates, generous living spaces and a relaxed outdoor lifestyle with the everyday convenience of having shopping, schools and parks literally around the corner.

Beautifully updated throughout, the kitchen and bathrooms have all been modernised approximately two years ago, creating a home that feels fresh, contemporary and ready to enjoy. The open-plan kitchen, dining and living area forms the centre of the home, while a separate living room provides additional flexibility and is currently arranged as a music room.

Five bedrooms provide excellent accommodation, with the thoughtful layout allowing the bedrooms to be spread throughout the home. This creates a sense of privacy and separation when wanted, while still providing plenty of space for family and guests.

The main bedroom offers a walk-in robe and ensuite, while the remaining bedrooms are well proportioned and supported by the beautifully updated main bathroom.

Outside, the home takes on an even more relaxed feel. A choice of outdoor entertaining areas provides plenty of options for morning coffee, afternoon entertaining or simply enjoying your own space. A heated above-ground pool and optional spa add another dimension to the outdoor lifestyle, while the low-maintenance yard means there's more time to enjoy it and less time looking after it.

Comfort and efficiency have also been well considered, with ducted zoned reverse-cycle air conditioning throughout, together with solar and battery storage to help manage everyday energy use.

Positioned at the end of a quiet cul-de-sac and just around the corner from the local shopping centre, schools and parks, the location makes everyday life particularly convenient without compromising on the peace and privacy of the home.
