House 7 3 2

QUEENSLAND SOUL. MODERN ATTITUDE.

A HOME THAT PLAYS BY ITS OWN RULES.

Unassuming at first glance, this is a home that reveals itself slowly - then all at once.

Bold in scale, deliberate in design and rich in flexibility, 103 Blackall Street is a confident fusion of Queensland character and contemporary family living, crafted for those who want more than just "another house".

Spread across two substantial levels, this residence delivers separation, flow and moments of surprise - where volume, light and versatility work together to create a home that adapts as effortlessly as it impresses.

THE UPPER LEVEL | WHERE LIFE HAPPENS

This is the social engine of the home - expansive, light-filled and unapologetically generous.

An oversized family and living zone stretches the length of the home, anchored by a contemporary kitchen with walk-in pantry and entertainer's bar - because hosting here isn't an afterthought, it's the brief.

Glass doors blur the boundary between inside and out, spilling onto the covered entertainment deck - a place made for long lunches, loud laughter, quiet mornings and everything in between.

Bedrooms are thoughtfully positioned to balance connection and retreat, while a dedicated kids' retreat adds another layer of separation for modern family dynamics.

This level doesn't just function - it performs.

THE GROUND LEVEL | FLEXIBILITY, REDEFINED

Downstairs changes the conversation entirely.

With its own kitchenette, bathroom, private entry and living zone, this level delivers genuine independence - ideal for extended family, guests, teenagers, or a serious work-from-home setup.

It's not "extra space".

It's purpose-built flexibility.

Multiple bedrooms, study zones, storage rooms, mudroom and internal garage access make this level as practical as it is adaptable - ready to evolve with your
