This generous four-bedroom home also incorporates a dedicated study and separate home theatre/rumpus room, creating a versatile floorplan with excellent separation between living zones and plenty of space for the whole family.

Our vendors have thoughtfully modernised their near 15-year-old home, with the kitchen receiving a particularly impressive transformation. Stone benchtops provide generous preparation space, complemented by an induction cooktop, electric wall-mounted oven, new dishwasher, walk-in pantry, excellent storage and easy access to dining and family area.

The living area has also been cleverly reworked, with an internal wall moved to create a more open and social environment. The study now enjoys a more open connection to the main living area, making it ideal for those working from home, while the separate rumpus room remains a terrific space as a billiard room, children's playroom or an additional retreat.

Cleverly chosen nature-inspired wallpapers add luxury, bringing together dining and entertaining areas that would enhance any style of furniture.

Step outside and the entertaining continues beneath the elevated, fully covered pergola - an inviting space for weekend BBQs, entertaining friends or simply unwinding at the end of the day.

The master bedroom features a walk-in robe and ensuite, while the remaining bedrooms include built-in robes and ceiling fans, serviced by the main bathroom and separate laundry.

Vehicle accommodation is another standout. The extended double lock-up garage is an impressive 7.8m wide, providing additional room for bikes, a motorbike, workshop or storage. Through access also allows you to accommodate a trailer, boat or camper.

Life here is designed to be enjoyable rather than demanding. Synthetic turf to the front yard significantly reduces mowing, while the rear yard still provides space for gardens, entertaining and family enjoyment. A garden shed and water tank add further practicality.
