House 4  1  1

RETRO CHARM. ROCK SOLID. FULL OF HEART.

Held by the one family since new, this much-loved highset home delivers something increasingly rare - authenticity, space and genuine retro character, all set on a sprawling 918m² allotment in one of North Ipswich's most convenient family pockets.

There's a warmth here that can't be manufactured. A home built in an era where houses were made to last, where families gathered on the veranda, kids played in the backyard until sunset and every room served a purpose.

From the moment you arrive, the home immediately captures attention with its elevated position, oversized frontage and unmistakable retro personality. The soft pastel façade, original finishes and preserved interiors create a nostalgic feel that is both comforting and incredibly on-trend again.

This is the kind of property renovators dream about - original, honest and beautifully maintained.

RETRO BONES. ENDLESS POTENTIAL.

Inside, the home remains wonderfully intact with much of its original charm proudly preserved.

Warm timber wall panelling, vintage cabinetry, oversized rooms and classic finishes create a home that feels like stepping back into a simpler time - in the very best way.

The original kitchen is pure retro nostalgia, exceptionally maintained and full of personality, offering the perfect foundation for those wanting to restore, modernise or simply embrace the vintage aesthetic exactly as it is.

The upper level offers:

- Four generous bedrooms
- Spacious family living area filled with natural light
- Combined dining space
- Well-kept original kitchen with retro cabinetry and exceptional storage
- Functional family bathroom with separate toilet
- Air-conditioning for year-round comfort to the main living.
- Elevated front veranda capturing breezes and leafy outlooks
