

20 Delacy St, North Ipswich, QLD 4305

OFFERS OVER $859,000

House 3  2

TIMELESS CHARACTER. LUSH GARDENS. A HOME WITH SOUL.

Set on a generous 885m² allotment, this beautifully preserved circa-1900 colonial is a home that tells a story - where character, charm and nature come together in a way that feels both grounding and rare.

Privately nestled behind established greenery, the home reveals itself slowly - framed by stunning, mature gardens and a lush, rainforest-inspired backdrop that creates an immediate sense of calm. There's a softness here. A quietness. A feeling that you've stepped away from the pace of everyday life, without ever leaving it behind.

This is a home that invites you in... and asks you to stay a while.

From the front veranda to the layered greenery beyond, every angle offers a moment - morning coffee surrounded by trees, filtered light through the leaves, the sound of birds replacing the noise of the day. It's a property that doesn't just present well - it feels different. A place where mornings start slow... and afternoons drift into green.

CHARACTER THAT ENDURES.

From the moment you arrive, the home's presence is undeniable. Classic colonial proportions, timeless detailing and a warmth that only comes with age create a home rich in personality and authenticity - the kind of character that simply can't be replicated.

Inside, the home balances heritage charm with everyday functionality. High ceilings enhance space and airflow, natural light moves effortlessly through the interiors, and the layout offers a sense of ease that supports both quiet living and connection.

At its heart, the solid timber kitchen anchors the home - complete with timber benchtops, gas cooking and generous storage - flowing into open-plan living and dining zones that feel both welcoming and practical. This is not just a home you walk through. It's one you experience.

COMFORTABLE LIVING. THOUGHTFUL DESIGN.

- Three well-proportioned bedrooms
- Master retreat with walk-in robe and private ensuite
- Two bathrooms servicing the home with ease
- Functional layout that adapts to everyday living

Listed By

Helene Shephard
Phone: (07) 3281 3800
Mobile: 0411 896 158

Open for Inspection

By Appointment.

Listing Number: 3535588