Dual Living with elegance, quality, style & privacy

This is the perfect property for the larger or extended family, offering two residences set on 3.35 acres of low maintenance grounds, level lawns, mature gardens and surrounded by the lush rainforest of Springbrook National Park.

Originally a dairy farm during the 1920's and the Turramurra Guesthouse in the 1940's, it was planted with tulips and daffodils in the 1960's and became known as Tulip Gardens. Thousands of tourists visited to enjoy the Dutch food in the café served by staff in traditional Dutch costumes.

Upon arriving at the property, you'll be immediately impressed by the attractive gated entrance and enticed by the long tree-lined driveway to firstly discover the main 54 square residence which exudes elegance, quality, style and privacy and is FULLY FURNISHED.

This substantial residence has been beautifully restored and features all of today's desired luxuries, whilst still respecting the home's historical features. Covered verandas and decks provide the perfect vantage-points to absorb the lush green surroundings and admire the abundant birdlife and visiting wallabies and pademelons.

The second residence is a brand new two bedroom fully self contained granny flat which sits closeby, yet maintains its own privacy.
