At the centre of the home, the open-plan living and dining zone creates a natural gathering point for the whole family. Freshly painted throughout, the space feels bright, clean and inviting, offering plenty of room to relax, entertain and enjoy the everyday moments that matter most.

Four generously sized bedrooms offer comfortable accommodation for the whole family, guests or a home office setup, while two well-appointed bathrooms ensure mornings run smoothly, no matter how busy the household.

Thoughtfully designed for family living, the floorplan offers a sensible separation between living and sleeping zones, striking the right balance between shared family time and everyone's own personal space.

A double garage adds secure parking and everyday convenience, rounding out a home that delivers on comfort, practicality and functionality on a generous block in a highly sought-after pocket of Everton Hills.

Homes offering this level of space, comfort and fresh presentation don't come around often in Everton Hills. This is the one you'll wish you'd called about sooner. Call Dean or Oscar today before someone else does.
