A Rare Avalon Estate Offering Scale, Privacy and Lush Green

Rarely does a holding of this scale and build quality come to market in Avalon Beach. Set on more than 3,121 square metres of level land, this magnificent Ruskin Rowe residence rises from a landscape of soaring cabbage tree palms and gum trees, with a natural creek at the front boundary and horseshoe driveway that make arriving here feel like a world away. Positioned alongside a quiet enclave of grand neighbouring estates, seclusion and security come as standard.

Finished with remarkable attention to detail, the home honours its natural surrounds at every turn. Polished concrete wall slabs, hand-picked Burnie limestone, rich imported teak timber features and warm Chardonnay hardwood flooring create a palette that is both grand and grounded. Teak timber doors, stair treads and joinery flow throughout, while crisp white interiors and sheer French linen curtains keep the lush tropical outlook centre stage.

Living and dining spaces open through stacker and slider doors onto a sweeping deck overlooking the heated salt pool. A feature combustion fireplace, media room with roll-down projector screen and Wolf appliance kitchen with limestone splashback make everyday living feel quietly exceptional. Walkways wind through the property past secluded nooks, leading to the pool framed by towering palms, a standalone sauna and a self-contained studio.

Upstairs, the master suite commands the canopy outlook with an outdoor concrete bathtub, opening skylit ensuite, double shower, heated floors and generous walk-in robe. This is a once in a generation opportunity to secure an estate of extraordinary scale and warmth, just moments from Avalon Beach village, the surf beaches and Pittwater.
