The area:

Ferntree Gully is a large leafy suburb set at the foot of the Dandenong Ranges, 30km east of Melbourne CBD in Victoria. With 25,000 residents it is one of the largest suburbs in the City of Knox. It has retained much of its natural beauty due to the Foothills Planning Overlay which limits building heights, which in turn protects the tree canopy and views to the National Park.

The Mountain Gate shopping centre, located at the intersection of Ferntree Gully Road and Burwood Highway, is a short walk from the centre and houses all the major outlets and facilities.

In 2020 there were over 2,000 4yo and 5yo children enrolled in preschool programs. These are catered for by four Long Day Care centres: Amaroo Childcare Centre (500m), Ferntree Gully Childrens Centre (680m), Park Crescent Childrens Centre (1 km), and Goodstart Early Learning Ferntree Gully (2 km).
