Vagg Industrial is a wholesale rural fencing supplies business with a workshop in Cobram Victoria. Vagg Industrial supplies and delivers an extensive range of rural fencing products Australia wide to their valued and expansive client base. Vagg not only manufacture and supply their own product but also manufacture product specifically for other known brands such as Thunderbird, Gallagher & Datamars. Their extensive product range which includes pigtail posts, curlons, post drivers, lifters, wire spinners and even garden sprinklers can be found across many reputable stores such as Ag Warehouse (formerly Murray Goulburn), the AIRR group, W.B Hunter, Nutrien and countless other independent small businesses.

Vagg Industrial has been in operation for 31 years. The first 20 with its founder and namesake and the past 11 years with its current owners. Vagg Industrial is currently a family run business with 3 of the 4 partners working in the business alongside our highly valued long term employee.

Vagg Industrial prides itself on having a quality Australian made product and it is definitely what sets them apart.

Although it is time for the current owners to move on to new ventures there are plenty of growth opportunities within the business with the potential to really take it to the next level.

Existing property can be leased or run from your own premises as it is not location dependant.
