From the team at SunnyKids :

Our Short to Medium term Housing Program supports women and children who have experienced domestic and family violence to transition from crisis or temporary accommodation into longer-term independent living. The program gives participants an opportunity to establish a positive rental history with a reputable real estate agency while continuing to receive case management support and work towards sustainable, long-term housing outcomes.

To be eligible, applicants must:

- ? Be a woman with accompanying children who has experienced domestic and family violence.
- ? Have resided in a DFV refuge or other supported temporary accommodation, or have been actively engaged with a DFV service, for a minimum of six weeks.
- ? Be assessed as being beyond the immediate crisis phase and at low risk
