DAYDREAM BELIEVER

Those days of sitting in traffic jams on the daily commute to work are thankfully over. The highlight of those traffic jams was the time that they allowed you to daydream and ponder the future (and work on your solo singing career!).

The future where you retired to a coastal town on the NSW north coast - with no traffic lights. The future where you could throw in a line right out front of your sprawling home and catch a flathead for dinner. The future that you were travelling towards.

Your future is here and now!
