Potential is a word that can be overused in real estate but the reality is many will walk through the door here and get those creative juices flowing as to how to bring this fantastic property into the 21st Century. The space inside and out is amazing, if you want a pool, there's space. If you've dreamed of your own art study or workshop, it's here. There is a great mix of informal and formal living, throw open the double doors from the family room and your Northerly outdoor entertainment area just begs the family and friends to come BBQ while the 1000m2 yard is always great for the children and the family pet. Don't miss this one.
