The steel frame home has been lovingly maintained and features 3 double size bedrooms plus study or (4th bedroom), ensuite to main bedroom, formal lounge with open fire place, well-appointed timber kitchen, large north facing living and formal dining room which basks in the morning sun.

Full verandas on the front and rear of the home offer protection from the weather and under cover access to a large double garage under roofline.

Attention to detail was paramount when planning this property, by the current owners over 30 years ago. The central laneway runs through the entire property from front to back, offering easy access to all paddocks, yards, hay shed and water supply.

Being only minutes from the freeway and the thriving township of Warragul, but offering absolute seclusion and privacy, as the address suggests, it is not only pleasant – it offers the perfect balance of rural living/town convenience. Get in quick for this one!
