Cerulean (/səˈruːliən/), a hue of blue halfway between azure and cyan. A colour the entire residence was custom built by award winning architects to celebrate. The elevated position treats the eye to the glistening waters of Saint Vincent Gulf and seemingly endless blue sky, plus a peep of Port Willunga's golden sands & cliffs.

There is a small pocket in Port Willunga that is home to a collection of awe-inspiring architectural builds. Spanning a few quiet streets, undoubtedly the most elite reside on the beachfront streets of Port Road & the Esplanade – the very heart of it all, which is exactly where you'll be. Located within that small stretch of breathtaking beachfront homes, you are quite literally a few steps from the sand whilst still feeling like you're in a world of your own.

Embracing the coastal elements of its surroundings and the unbelievably cruisy coastal lifestyle our area is renowned for, Cerulean has beauty and family at its core. The name simply couldn't be more fitting given the specific colour of blue is known to represent a devotion to your family and friends. This intentional balance is obvious the homes aesthetic and practicality. Every inch looks like belongs in a glossy magazine, but meticulous planning means every element serves a purpose to make your stay effortless. It really is the little things. like a laundry from your dreams, a kitchenette downstairs and dedicated workspace.

The soft aesthetic is incredibly calming, featuring a subtle coastal palette and warm textures throughout. The line between inside and out is blurred so you can enjoy a seamless flow between all the entertaining areas the home has been centred around. An abundance of natural light streams in from all glass and offers a serene view from almost every room. Yet, the clever design creates obscurity to ensure your privacy. Sprawled across a large footprint with two fresh light filled levels, this is one for the whole family.

While they say a picture paints a thousand words, we believe these pictures can't say enough. There is simply no better word than sublime.

~ Chill ~

Take your pick. Sensational in and outdoor spaces for livening up or laxing.
