PROJECT WAITING TO BE FINISHED

An opportunity to finish off this project and get into the property or investment market. This vendor has lost the energy to continue on with this refurbishment and it's available for someone else to finish off. The two bedrooms have built in robes, the lounge area has split system heating/cooling but the bathroom, laundry and kitchen have been pulled back to refit so it can be a blank slate for the new owner. Out the back is a courtyard with a small shed, there is a carport at the front of the complex. As an investment this low-cost starting point.

Open for Inspection
