Vintage Seaside Home close to Water with Views on Quarter Ac

Verandahs to the East and West creates a variety of options with water views towards Redland Bay or just watch time go by. This vintage property has had a face lift. Hedges and the yard have been tamed to create a light sun filled yard and the fruit trees and other plants are flourishing. Access is from the eastern verandah which welcomes you to the home.

The entry has a lovely timber door and is surrounded by timber shutters giving extra room for a study or workspace. Opening onto the living room and dining room which is roomy and has a family sized dining area. Timber floors are featured throughout the home combined with casement windows keeping it cool in summer by letting in the breezes across the ocean and the natural light. The bathroom has a lovely timber vanity retaining the old world charm of the property. The triangular kitchen is hidden behind the living room wall and opens onto the western verandah. This space would provide a wonderful place to have a drink and watch the sunset across the water to the mainland.

A hallway leads past the kitchen to the three bedrooms all decorated in a style of a bygone era when life did not move so fast. The underneath area consists of another bathroom laundry and an assortment of storage and work rooms. Bore water is available for the yard during any dry periods and a solar system is in place to help with power usage. Located on popular Wharf Street, with wonderful neighbors and close to water at Thompson's Point, this will be a reluctant sale.

Embraced by a friendly and active island community you are able to enjoy a lifestyle away from the hustle and bustle of the city. There is an active art precinct and numerous clubs and activities to enjoy including an assortment of boating and fishing options.

An eighteen minute ferry ride will get you to the mainland when you want to enjoy a shopping day or see a movie with friends. Inter island ferry travel between the islands is free.

You will find cafes and restaurants, lawn bowls or golf which supply pick-up and drop-off service, hardware shops, doctors, chemists and post offices.
